

CCMS Computational Chemistry & Materials Science Summer Institute 2019

LAWRENCE LIVERMORE NATIONAL LABORATORY • JUNE 3 – AUGUST 9

Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory invites applicants for the Computational Chemistry and Materials Science (CCMS) Summer Institute, to be held June 3 – August 9, 2019.

The Institute establishes 15-20 summer fellowships for graduate students who have demonstrated a strong interest in computational science. Students will have the opportunity to work directly with leading LLNL researchers on the development and application of cutting-edge methods in computational chemistry, materials science, and related areas. Summer research projects will be accompanied by weekly lectures given by leading computational scientists from universities, national laboratories and industry.

Participants will receive a generous stipend, plus reimbursement of travel to and from LLNL.

LLNL is located in the beautiful town of Livermore, 40 miles east of San Francisco.

Committee Members:

Vasily Bulatov, Nir Goldman, Frank Graziani, Felice Lightstone, Tuan Anh Pham, Robert Rudd, Eric Schwegler, Vince Lordi, Jeff Roberts, Todd Weisgraber
